DPM Welcomes Students for On-the-Job Training

Port Moresby, Tuesday, September 23, 2025 – The Department of Personnel Management (DPM) has welcomed six Grade 11 students from Caritas Technical Secondary School for a practical, on-the-job training program.

The students will complete 400 hours of training as part of their academic requirements, gaining valuable exposure to the public service sector.

This initiative is a key part of DPM's commitment to supporting education and nurturing future talent in Papua New Guinea. The program bridges the gap between theoretical classroom knowledge and real-world application, equipping students with essential skills and confidence for their future careers.

"We are happy to be here and to learn new things. This experience will give us the courage to move forward when we eventually start work," one of the students shared.

Through their training at DPM, the students will gain insight into the inner workings of government, human resource management, and service delivery, preparing them to thrive in the workforce.

APPROVED FOR RELEASE.
